eKnowledge Corporation & NFL Players Tackle SAT & ACT Test Prep

Legendary running back Warrick Dunn supports eKnowledge Corporation's military donation program, providing FREE SAT/ACT PowerPrep™ programs to military service members and their families.

Atlanta, GA, May 8, 2009 - In its fourth consecutive year, eKnowledge Corporation, in alliance with the Department of Defense and patriotic NFL players have donated over 120,000 FREE SAT and ACT test prep programs, normally priced at $200. The total value of the donation exceeds $20 million.

Lori Caputo, Vice President/Military Donation Programs is pleased to announce Mr. Dunn's promotion of the donation effort. "I support the men and women who give us the liberty of living our dreams. What they do can't be taken for granted and I appreciate it."

Dunn was recently awarded the 2009 Bart Starr Award for his exceptional involvement in support of charitable organizations.

eKnowledge is proud to include Mr. Warrick Dunn as a sponsor of this significant gift to U.S. Service members and their dependants. eKnowledge has received more than 35,000 thank you letters and testimonials from military service members who ordered the FREE SAT/ACT PowerPrep™ software. We're very proud of our men and women in uniform and appreciate their tremendous sacrifice for our country. We want to ensure that our military families have the support they deserve with their continuing education requirements.
